The South African United Business Confederation (SAUBC) would like to congratulate the newly appointed Black Business Council (BBC) leadership.

SAUBC President, Mr. George Sebelela said, “The newly appointed leadership will be led by Mr. Elias Monage as the President of BBC. The SAUBC is confident that Mr. Monage will continue to lead the council with dignity and represent the interests of black professionals and businesses”.

Mr. Monage has been an active member of BBC at the National Council. He is very well known to the President of SAUBC, Mr. Sebelela and Chairman of SAUBC, Mr. Sello Rasethaba during their term at BBC as Secretary General and Chairman respectively.

SAUBC Chairman, Mr. Sello Rasethaba added, “As business, we thank the previous leadership for steering the organisation under trying circumstances and wish the new leadership well in their task of transforming the black business landscape”.

SAUBC calls upon the BBC to advance the course of transformation so that black business participates in key operations within the various sectors. The SAUBC will engage with the leadership of the BBC for potential collaboration as we strive to make South Africa the preferred investment destination in Africa and the world at large.
